

Brave New World A Man of Two Worlds

Use this plot map and chart to explore how John's character is developed in Brave New World.

First, find each quote in the text. Read the quote in context. Then write the number of the event on the plot map in which the quote appears. Next, in the right column of the chart, note your ideas about the importance of the event to John's character development.

After you complete the chart, write a short essay that analyzes how John changes over the course of the novel. Support your ideas with events from the plot map and quotes from the chart. You may also cite other quotes and events from the novel.

Quote	Event in Which Quote Appears	Notes on John's Character Development
The dress of the young man . . . was Indian; but his plaited hair was straw-coloured, his eyes a pale blue, and his skin a white skin, bronzed. (p. 116)	1	Our first glimpse of John shows that he has both Indian and Caucasian traits, which implies that he has conflicting identities.
And as though awakened by her cry he caught her by the shoulders and shook her. "Whore!" he shouted. "Whore! Impudent strumpet!" (p. 194)
And suddenly it was luminously clear to the Savage what he must do; it was as though a shutter had been opened, a curtain drawn back. (p. 210)
And then the solitude! Whole days passed during which he never saw a human being. (p. 245)
A humming overhead had become a roar; and suddenly he was in shadow, there was something between the sun and him. (p. 254)

RL.11-12.2 Determine two or more themes or central ideas of a text and analyze their development over the course of the text, including how they interact and build on one another to produce a complex account; provide an objective summary of the text.

RL.11-12.3. Analyze the impact of the author's choices regarding how to develop and relate elements of a story or drama (e.g., where a story is set, how the action is ordered, how the characters are introduced and developed).

W.11-12.2. Write informative/explanatory texts to examine and convey complex ideas, concepts, and information clearly and accurately through the effective selection, organization, and analysis of content.
